

This year was a year of change for our organization as well as intense organizational development so that we can better serve Domestic Violence Shelters and Organizations in Latin America.

We welcomed new board members as well as transitioned some board members. Our newest board members include Tyler Musgrave and Nevin Kohler.

Patty Hernandez, one of our founders, has recently stepped down in order to focus on her private practice, but will remain a supporter of the organization. Heather Frankland and Libby Reader also served briefly on our board from 2018-2019 and have transitioned to focus more on their full-time positions. We will be seeking new board members in 2020 to fill these positions.

As an organization, we worked on refining our mission statement, redeveloping our website, and developing structures to better support organizations, including clearer and more transparent documentation to ensure we can track our support and gifts to organizations.

In 2019, funds were not granted as they had been in previous years, due to the organizational restructure of the ISSF board, as well as there had not been expressed needs from our recipient shelter, Centro de Protección de Mujer a Mujer, AC. Please see the past funding activity summary from the previous two years below. Requests for funding, short and long-term, will be made in the immediate future through the use of designated forms and a formalized, transparent process.

We also signed a new agreement with WordPress to renew our website and have begun the process of upgrading and refining our web design. In 2020, we will hire a website designer to give our website a facelift and make our site more user friendly to both supporters and organizations we serve.
